NIGHT SESSIONS HELD BY ASSEMBLY

The Head Police Bill One of Those Passed Yesterday.

The Annual Compensation of Circuit Court Judges Will Be $3,500, Says the Bill Passed.

SUBSTITUTE FOR CHINN BILL

Frankfort, Ky., March 8.—The senate created a special legislative commission yesterday afternoon to go to Breathitt county and investigate feud conditions there and report back to the assembly.

Other bills considered at evening session and adopted were: Shellman bill fixing tolls for water and steam mills, unanimously.

Klair bill, authorizing second class cities to close streets and alleys. Its purpose is to close alleys at Lexington on site of proposed new railway station. It received 60 votes to two against it.

H. K. Cole bill, authorizing cities of the third class to sprinkle streets by contract and apportion the cost to abutting property owners, the claim to be a lien on such property.

House gave an hour of its time yesterday afternoon to the question of whether or not salaries of circuit judges shall be raised to $3,500 or to $5,000. After a number of brief talks by the young lawyers of the house it adopted a report by the circuit courts committee that the annual compensation be $3,500, and by a vote of 58 to 26 it adopted the bill as amended.

Other bills put through at afternoon session were:

Alverson bill requiring construction of fish ladders in small streams containing dams.

Committee omnibus bill transferring a number of small towns from one class to another.

House bill to make employers liable for injuries to employees through use of defective machinery.

The senate passed the Head bill, providing that number of patrolmen in cities of second class shall not be less than 20.

The house of representatives at 12:30 o'clock today adopted a substitute for the Chinn local option bill passed up to it by the senate, and sent its substitute to the upper branch asking concurrence.

The substitute makes all cities of the first four classes separate units from the county, and the county the unit in all other classes. It differs from the Chinn bill only as to the fifth class cities. The bill received 70 votes to 22 against it. Senator Chinn stated to Judge Redwine that he will accept the house changes in his bill. This insures concurrence of the senate in the bill.

This afternoon the senate gave concurrence to the house local option bill after a lively fight, by a vote of 32 to 4. An appeal was taken from a ruling of President Thorne sustaining a point of order that a two-thirds vote was necessary to take up the bill, and upon a controversy arising, the point of order was withdrawn.

SEVERAL KILLED

IN WRECKS ON THE RAILROADS LAST NIGHT AND TODAY

Stock Train Wrecked Near Burlington, Ia., and the Loss Is $100,000.

Greensburg Pa., Mar. 8.—An empty engine on the Pennsylvania railroad collided with a work train on which were about seventy-five Italians, this morning, and four were killed and 35 hurt. The train had backed out on the main line when the engine came upon it. The accident is said to be due to negligence.

Three Killed in Wreck. Saratoga, N. Y., Mar. 8.—The number of deaths as a result of a rear-end collision last night between the Montreal express and Lake George local trains, is now three. Six were injured.

$100,000 Loss in Wreck. Burlington, Iowa, Mar. 8.—Four men were hurt, one fatally, when a fast stock train on the Burlington road crashed into another section of the same train near here today. Wrecked cars piled forty feet high and caught fire, cremating many horses and cattle. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

LIGHT ORDINANCE MAY BE PASSED

Board of Aldermen to Consider it at Tonight's Meeting.

It is Expected That Speeches Will Be Made by Some of Those Who Object to the Ordinance.

THE NEW BRIDGE PROPOSITION

The board of aldermen will meet tonight in regular session, and has a good deal of business of importance to transact. The ordinance giving the general council authority to let a contract for street lights will come up for action, and will, from indications, be passed. This ordinance is the first step toward giving the city authority to make a contract with the street car company for street lights, and was brought up in the council Monday night, and referred by that board to the aldermanic board.

There were a number of people who are opposed to the contract at the council meeting to protest against its adoption, and they will be at the aldermanic meeting tonight, and some addresses will be made by their spokesmen.

Aldermen Hank, Bell and Chamberlin, the committee on public improvements, will meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon with Manager Bleeker of the street car company to consider the new bridge proposed for Island creek at Fourth street, and the committee may bring in a report on it tonight.

It is proposed to build, now, a structure to cost about $28,000, but this depends on what the street car company will do. Manager Bleeker said today he was not in a position to say how much of the expense his company would bear, and would not be until he saw and conferred with the city officials and learned what they proposed to do.

Some members of the council are citing the bridge at Fourth street as another evidence of how the crowd that has been running things in Paducah for years past has neglected and abused them. "That bridge should be in good condition today, and a new one unnecessary, if it had received the proper attention," said a councilman today. "But it is only another evidence of what has been done with everything connected with the city for several years past."

ALL BUT THIRTY

Towns in Vermont to Prohibit the Sale of Liquor.

Burlington, Vt., March 8.—Nearly complete returns indicate that there will be fewer than thirty out of 246 towns and cities in Vermont where liquor can be sold the coming year.

The total length of railways in Japan is now over 4,500 miles. The gauge is three feet six inches.

NOVEL EXPERIENCE FOR STREET CAR MEN

Manager Bleeker Confronted by a School Girl Boycott.

School Children Object to Company's Dispensing With Half Fare Checks.

MOST OF THEM WALKING TODAY

Manager John S. Bleeker, of the street car company, in his management of several street car systems, has had to contend with all sorts of propositions. Once in Houghton, Mich., a mob of 1,000 people stormed the company plant, and charged on the business office seeking him, but an outpost informed him of the approaching trouble and he sought egress hastily, he says, through a convenient and friendly window.

And he has passed through numerous other exciting incidents, but it remained for Paducah to give him his most novel experience—a boycott of his lines by school girls. "It should be termed a 'girlcott,'" probably, suggested the reporter.

The company heretofore has issued checks to be used by half fare patrons—that is, passengers not over twelve years of age—and only recently abolished them and adopted a form of ticket, and issued positive instructions to the conductors to allow no one over twelve years of age to use them.

For years, the school children, especially the girls of all ages, have been using the half fare checks, and when the new ruling went into effect yesterday, they became very indignant. Today they are, one and all, walking. The girls from Mechanicsburg, the girls from Littleville, the girls from Rowlandtown, all are venting their wrath and have joined the "we walk" ranks. The weight of a woman's scorn is now to be fully appreciated, and no doubt Manager Bleeker will have the greatest worry of all his Paducah tribulations in this new one.

OVERDOSE BY MISTAKE.

Mr. Luther Thomas Took Drug to Relieve Neuralgia, and Has a Close Call.

Mr. Luther Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Thomas, of 906 N. Seventh street, was found in an unconscious state this morning about 1 o'clock from an overdose of morphine, taken to relieve neuralgia pains in the back. Drs. Pendley and Grider were called in and at 9 o'clock he regained consciousness, and is thought to be out of danger.

$20,000 REDUCTION

Made in the Telephone Company's City Assessment.

The city board of supervisors held a special meeting today to consider a reduction on the East Tennessee Telephone Co. assessment and has decided to recommend reducing it to $80,000. It was first placed at $100,000.

FRENCH CABINET RESIGNS IN A BODY

Was Piqued By a Resolution Adopted Yesterday.

A New Cabinet to Be Formed At Once—France's Policy Project Made Public.

PEACE IN MOROCCAN SQUABBLE

Paris, March 8.—President Fallieres today called President Dubost, of the senate, and President Doumer, of the chamber of deputies, to the palace, to discuss the crisis caused by the sudden resignation last night of Premier Rouvier. The matter of forming a new cabinet and the best course to pursue in the crisis will be discussed. The situation is difficult on account of the international disorder in the country.

Resigned in a Body.

Paris March 8.—After an exciting debate in the deputies relative to the church inventories, which lasted until late last evening, the Rouvier ministry was defeated by a vote of 237 against 234. The ministry decided to offer its resignation to President Fallieres.

President Fallieres accepted the resignation and announced his intention of consulting the presidents of the senate and deputies today relative to the formation of a new cabinet.

The debate in the deputies was upon a riot during the taking of an inventory of a church in Boeschepe resulting in the death of a manifestant.

Various orators severely criticized the government's course, asserting it threatened to precipitate a religious warfare.

Premier Rouvier responded: "The government has a duty to apply the laws, it will apply it without weakness, but also with prudence, tact and wisdom consistent with public tranquility. I ask the adoption of a resolution approving these declarations of the government."

The resolution was thereupon put to a vote and defeated. The vote was more expressive of personal antagonism to the ministry than of opposition to the church inventories.

The cabinet crisis comes at a most dramatic moment, when the Franco-German contest has reached a decisive stage and may exert an important adverse influence on the Algeiras conference and on European affairs.

Conciliation Is Expected.

Algeiras, March 8.—The French police project was distributed last night among the delegates to the conference on Moroccan affairs. This proposition which will be presented to the conference today consists of five paragraphs, the substance of which is:

"The Moroccan police to be constituted for three years, composed of Moorish Mussellmen commanded by 16 French and Spanish officers and 32 non-commissioned officers. The force to consist of 2,000 to 2,500 men distributed among eight ports in bodies of 200 to 500. The state bank to advance funds for the administration and payment of the force."

No mention is made of international supervision and the project therefore is practically the same as was outlined in Revoll's declaration Monday.

The result of today's sitting of the conference is awaited with the most intense interest. Reports relative to the probability of an agreement are circulated on all sides. Conciliation is in the air and continued efforts in that direction are going on, but the tangible basis for a possible arrangement cannot be learned.

The German delegates do not display any outward sign of making concessions, while France's latest utterance is undisputedly opposed to any further concessions.

Electric Chair Will Remain.

Columbus, O., March 8.—The house of representatives has indefinitely postponed action on the proposed bill to abolish capital punishment. The electric chair will remain.

Death of a Child.

James O. Hollich, the 7-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hollich, of 517 North Eighth street, died today after a month's illness. The time of the funeral has not been set.

A FIEND INCARNATE SELLS HUMAN FLESH AS PORK.

Buenos Ayres, Brazil, March 8.—Jose Modiry Portugese, a meat dealer, has been arrested charged with murdering men and women and selling their flesh for pork. He did a flourishing business until he fell into the hands of the law.

The police found the remains of fourteen persons in his shop. When the people learned that they had been eating human flesh instead of pork they attempted to storm the jail, but the police prevented the madmen from wreaking their vengeance.

A SHORT SENTENCE FOR THE MURDERESS

She is Expected in Return to Expose the Police.

Bertha Claiche is Expected to Get Not More Than Five Years in Sing Sing Prison.

THE DEAL MADE WITH JEROME.

New York, Mar. 8.—Borne aloft on the shoulders of two deputy sheriffs stiff and rigid as a log, her hair hanging in a matted mass from her head, her lips bloodstained, and exuding froth, while her low agonized moans rang hollow through the crowded room Bertha Claiche was carried through the door of the supreme court chamber to the jury room outside, and the curtain fell on one of the most dramatic scenes ever witnessed in a court of justice.

Fifteen minutes before the pallid prisoner of the Tenderloin had entered a plea of guilty of manslaughter in the second degree. At the last minute Lawyers Levy and Rosalsky reached an agreement with Jerome. The case was taken out of the hands of the jury, and Bertha Claiche's life was given her in exchange for the story she can tell of police corruption in the Tenderloin.

But one act more of the sordid tragedy remains to be presented. On the 29th instant the girl will be sentenced. There is ample assurance that her punishment will be light, for between now and then the prisoner will tell to Jerome the story she was spared from telling before the gaping crowd in the court room.

There will be a police investigation. Today's action insures this much, for Police Commissioner Bingham and the men who appointed him will be forced to take cognizance of the criminal dealings of the police which the revolting story of this miserable girl will expose to the public gaze.

At the opening of the defense former Judge Rosalsky charged a police conspiracy to send Bertha Claiche to the electric chair to save the positions of officers whose dealings she could expose. Her life against their official heads became the slogan of the defense. At the critical hour of the trial the proposition took concrete form and Jerome entered the most dramatic game ever played—the life of a fallen woman against the police department in the greatest city on the American continent.

Bertha Claiche won, although the victory is somewhat in the nature of a compromise. She emerges from the shadow of the electric chair to spend perhaps five years in prison. The police department faces a humiliating exposure of corrupt bargaining with vice and crime on a basis of cold cash.

A person can never do a good day's work if it is grumblingly begun.

Reported the Mayor Will Recommend Settlement of Telephone Co. Cases

The city will tonight settle with the East Tennessee Telephone Co., and at terms very near what the company has asked for all along, it is reported very authoritatively today.

The mayor, according to the report, will recommend this action to the aldermen tonight, and it will probably be taken. It is said, also,

POLICE QUESTION IS PUZZLING MANY

The Bill Requiring 30 Has Passed Both Houses.

The Appropriation For the Year is For a Much Smaller Force, However—Results Uncertain.

LITIGATION IS IN PROSPECT.

WILL THE GOVERNOR THINK IT RADICALLY WRONG?

The indications are that the governor will sign the police bill. The Sun today received a private dispatch from Frankfort, stating: "The police bill has not yet reached the governor and he does not know its provisions. His policy, however, is to sign bills unless radically wrong."

It looks as if the council is up against it on the police question. It has an ordinance in the course of passage cutting down the force, and the bill to increase the force to 30—the bill inspired by the mayor and his henchmen which will cost the city $7,000 extra a year, has passed both branches of the legislature and will become a law in ninety days, unless vetoed by the governor, which is hardly probable.

"The ordinance brought in to cut the force will be invalid now, should it pass," said City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., today.

"What are you going to do?" a Sun representative asked one of the aldermen today, referring to Mr. Campbell's declaration.

"I do not know what we shall do, but I do know what I think," he replied. "We have already made our appropriation for the police force this year, and as directed by the charter, made the appropriation as near what we thought sufficient for this year as we could. We did not know this bill was coming up. It was an act of spite, revenge and graft, anyway. In view of having made the appropriation already for this year, I don't think the bill can affect us this year."

It has been suggested that the council could bring in an ordinance increasing the number of police to 30, as required by the new law, and not increase the appropriation, and the police commissioners would have to cut the salaries, but there is an ordinance on the books which was passed in 1901 fixing the police salaries as at present, $60 a month, but of course this can be repealed at any time.

It looks, however, as if there will be litigation over the matter, as the commissioners will probably appoint 30 men and not reduce the salaries and when the appropriation runs out the police may sue for their salaries.

DISTRICT SECRETARY.

Of the Civil Service Commission Was in Paducah Today.

C. W. Moss, of Cincinnati, district secretary of the civil service commission, was in the city today for a short time and called on friends at the postoffice. He was en route home after a trip to Mayfield, where he went to hold an examination of civil service applicants for the free delivery system to be installed there.

Sues For $5,000 Damages.

W. M. Pace today filed suit in circuit court against Dr. B. L. Bradley for $5,000. He claims he had a growth over the left eye and Dr. Bradley treated him for one disease when he had another. The eyesight was lost, Pace declares. He asks for the above damages for the loss of the sight of the eye.

Fair Luna Helps Paducah Out Quite a Lot On Dark Nights, Says Councilman

The city would be in darkness these nights if it were not for a beneficent moon, the executive of which seems to have its municipal plant in fairly good condition. A councilman is authority for the statement that for several weeks only about one-third of the city's street lights have been "out of business." "They turn on a section of lights in one part of town tonight, and it is turned off in another tomorrow night, so the residents think it is only now and then that the lights are off," said this councilman today, "but this is merely evidence of the 'smoothness' of the powers that control the operation of the plant.

The moon, however, is doing duty just now, so residents in the dark districts of the city need not worry for a few nights yet.

The latest in musical farce, "A Trip to Egypt" by C. Herbert Kerr who is personally responsible for "The Beauty Doctor," "Over the Fence," "Papa's Baby," and other notable successes will be seen for the first time in this city at The Kentucky tonight. "A Trip to Egypt" is reported to be the funniest play of the season. It has played to a succession of crowded houses ever since its presentation, and the critics are unanimous in their praise of Mr. Kerr's latest effort.

The most popular song hits are entitled "The Girlie With the Wink," "Rose, Sweet Rose," "That Little Black Gal of Mine," and a sextette, "Stroll Together." The scenic plant carried by the company is very elaborate and many new and novel electrical effects are introduced. Lewis, the funniest of comedians, will make you laugh when you see them. The Chinn Racing Bill.

Frankfort, Ky., Mar. 8.—By an almost unanimous vote the Kentucky state senate adopted the Chinn bill for the creation of a state racing commission to control the running or racing tracks of the state. Before adopting the bill it was amended so as to have commissioners appointed for a term of four years; to allow appeal to courts on revocation of license for cause; excluding trotting tracks from any of the provisions of the bill and providing that tracks shall have at least forty days' racing a year if the management desires.

The Fine Suspended During Good
Behavior—Other Police Court
Notes.

Billy Barnes and Lillie Fagan, white, residents of Mechanicsburg, went to the East Baptist church to get religion, but instead got arrested and fined for disturbing public worship. The fines assessed against each, $20 and costs, was suspended during good behavior.

The two attended a revival being held at the East Baptist church in Mechanicsburg. They were arrested on a charge of talking and acting in a way to attract attention and detract from the interest of the meeting. The two ministers who are conducting the meeting were in court and testified that the meeting was disturbed.

The evidence showed that the two were guilty of loud talking and that there were others "sitting behind them." Judge Sanders stated that he would assess the fine but suspend it during good behavior and if the two defendants could find out the names of others sitting behind them who were guilty of talking and disturbing the meeting, he would warrant them.

Luby Tyree, white, was fined $10 and costs for striking Lacy Hall. He alleged that Hall had made an improper remark about his sister. Ed. McMahon, white, was fined $10 and costs for striking John Hunt. He claimed Hunt had been talking about him, and yesterday stopped Hunt as he was driving past his store. A few words passed and Hunt started to get out of the wagon when McMahon struck him three times.

Geo. Bibbs, colored, was fined $10 and costs for slapping his wife. "I understand your brother Sundayed with you not long ago," remarked the editor of the Plunkville Palladium.

FOREMAN DEVICE TO BE TESTED HERE

Railroad Officials Gather Next Week to Make Inspection.

Mr. Sam Foreman, the Paducah Inventor, Feels Confident He Has a Successful Contrivance.

OTHER RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

Mr. Sam Foreman, the inventor, will give a practical demonstration of his patent to prevent head-end collisions on railroads, to prominent officials of the M. and O. and I. C. railroads in Paducah next week, using the tracks of the Paducah Traction Co. from Fountain avenue to Wallace park.

Mr. Foreman has rigged up the necessary equipment to give the demonstration and has it set up in the building occupied by the Foreman Novelty Co. He can show where the practicability of the invention comes in without going to the railway tracks, but in order to show beyond a doubt that his invention will prove satisfactory in every detail, desires to give it a practical test on tracks.

There will be men from the M. and O. and I. C. roads to see the test." Mr. Foreman stated this morning, "I have been corresponding with the M. and O. road relative to my patent and as far as the appliance to fire a gun and apply air, and at the same time shut off steam, when engines approach within a mile or more or less, of each other is concerned, the officials do not care for this. They intend to have a gong in the engine cab and this will suffice. They presume their engineers are steady men and are supposed to be alive. I have tested my invention in every way and have it perfected. There is not a doubt but that I will convince the officials I have the only real solution to the wreck question and I have no fear of the results."

Mr. Foreman will be glad to exhibit his invention to anyone who cares to call at the works and see him in person. His invention is one hard to explain in print but is very clear when demonstrated by Mr. Foreman.

This meeting in Paducah next week for the purpose of the test will be watched with general interest. There are dozens of roads which would pay millions for such an invention if they were sure it is practical and infallible, and Mr. Foreman's patent seems to be the fulfillment of everything desired. He even has it perfected to such a degree that no current from the storage batteries is used on switches and the matter of a possible short circuit interfering has also been solved.

"The invention, if accepted by a road," Mr. Foreman explained, "will not only prevent head end collisions, but will be a saving to the road in expenditures. The present block system costs $150 a mile for installation and thousands of dollars a month for maintenance. The road has to employ telegraph block operators at each station. My system is put down in blocks, beginning outside the cities and costs but $250 a mile for installation and $1 a month for maintenance."

CHILLY CHASE

Is What David Johnson Led the Detectives.

Detectives Will Baker and T. J. Moore last night arrested David M. Johnson, white, who resides several miles out on the Cairo road, on a bench warrant charging grand larceny, but he gave them a merry chase for some little distance before he was caught. Johnson leaped out of bed in his night clothes when the detectives rapped on the door for admittance, and ran into some stables a great distance from his house to hide.

He was caught and returned to his house for his wearing apparel.

The prisoner was indicted last December by the grand jury for alleged grand larceny. He is accused of having stolen a cow from W. A. Gardner and traded it to C. C. Thompson, of the Cairo road, for a bull and $5 in money.

Johnson fled and had since been dodging the authorities. After he was indicted the police tried to locate him without success, but he returned a short time ago.

Johnson is in jail unable to give bond.

Senator Wheeler Campbell, of Paducah, Launches the Boom.

Frankfort, Ky., Mar. 8.—The Capital Hotel dining room was filled with over three hundred guests at the banquet given by Senator-elect Thos. H. Paynter Governor Beckham made the speech of the occasion, his subject being "The Commonwealth."

Other speakers and their subjects were Judge E. O'Rear, The Court of Appeals; Senator Wheeler Campbell, The Senator; W. C. Halbert, The House; W. R. Reid, The Press; Senator Henry George, The Purchase; The banquet was given to the members of the general assembly, state officials, and politicians. Mayor Combs, of Lexington, was among the prominent guests.

State Senator Wheeler Campbell, of Paducah, in his speech declared that in sending Judge Paynter to the federal senate, Kentucky is sending an exemplar of her best manhood. He created the wildest applause by adding that he believed in two years hence, Kentucky would send to the United States senate "her greatest Governor," J. C. W. Beckham.

FREIGHT HOUSE

Is Being Enlarged at Sixth and Campbell Streets.

Mr. W. C. Waggener, supervisor of bridges and buildings of the Louisville division of the I. C., is putting an addition on the freight house, at Sixth and Campbell streets. The building is being enlarged 42x115 and the "L" is being taken out and the building made straight. This work will require some little time and will greatly facilitate the handling of freight.

Servian Cabinet Resigns.

Belgrade, Servia, March 8.—The cabinet has resigned in a body. A collapse of negotiations that were in progress looking to the establishment of a provisional and commercial arrangement between Servia and Austria was responsible for the resignation.

NO MAN STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

The celebrated Dr. Abernethy of London was firmly of the opinion that disorders of the stomach were the most prolific source of human ailments in general. A recent medical writer says "every feeling, emotion and affection reports at the stomach (through the system of nerves) and the stomach is affected accordingly. It is the vital center of the body * * *." He continues, "so we may be said to live by (and he might well have said through) the stomach." He goes on to show that the stomach is the vital center of the body. He says "the function of digestion in its several stages is to prepare the food in forms which are suitable to be added to the structure," meaning the structure of our bodies. He continues, "every physical action from simple breathing, thinking and circulating of the blood to the most active bodily exertion wears out portions of the structure (of our bodies) and they become dead and so require to be taken away speedily. Much of the food which we take, and especially when unwholesome or in excess, adds to the waste material, and when it has undergone chemical changes it is still more mischievous." Then he goes on to the effect that the nervous system prompts every part of the circulating system. He says "it gives its message every moment to the infinite number of glands and follicles to unload themselves of waste material so that the current of blood may carry it away."

"When these two processes of nutrition and excretion are thus carried on with equal assiduity we are in health, but when this equilibrium does not exist there comes disorder and disease. The common form of such derangement is indigestion or dyspepsia. The function of nutrition is interrupted and all the operations which depend upon it go wrong. Under these conditions it has a way of appearing in other types of disorder. Many of these often mislead physicians. Other parts of the organism are likely to be involved, and we may find consumption, kidney complaint, hepatic (liver) disorders, hysteria and even mental alienation (derangement)." He says "it may be observed that deranged persons have a woe-begone expression, offensive breath, irregular action of the bowels, hallucinations and other like conditions of dyspepsia."

The foregoing is no doubt a rational view of the sad havoc worked in the human system by indigestion and dyspepsia, torpid liver and kindred derangements, which are generally associated with or followed by many other diseases of diverse appearance, but all depending upon the weak and disordered stomach. Cure the stomach weakness and you cure all these diseases and derangements.

For weak stomachs and the consequent indigestion or dyspepsia, and the multitude of various diseases which result therefrom, no medicine can be better suited as a curative agent than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The Golden Seal root, Stone root, Mandrake root and Black Cherry bark are all recommended by such eminent authorities as Dr. Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College; Prof. John King, author of the "AMERICAN DISPENSATORY"; Prof. John M. Scudder, late of Cincinnati; Dr. William Paine, author of Paine's Epitome of Medicine, Dr. Hobart A. Hare, of the University of Pa.; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Medical Dept., University of N. Y.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., Professor of Materia Medica, Chicago, and many others, as remedies for indigestion and dyspepsia, torpid liver as well as for bronchial, throat and lung affections, as will be seen from reading a little booklet recently compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., who will send the same on request, by postal card or letter, to any address, free. This little booklet tells of what Dr. Pierce's celebrated medicines are made, and gives every ingredient entering into their composition. Write Doctor Pierce, as above and receive it by return post.

Queen's root, or Stillingia, is an ingredient entering into the "Golden Medical Discovery" highly recommended by several of the above mentioned authorities for the cure of chronic or lingering bronchial, throat and lung affections, public speaker's sore throat attended with hoarseness, dry, rasping cough and kindred affections. Not only is Queen's root specific in its curative action in all these affections, but in "Golden Medical Discovery" it is greatly assisted by the combination with it of Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark and Bloodroot, with which it is blended in just the right proportion. Pure, triple refined glycerine also greatly enhances the effectiveness of all these agents in the cure of chronic and lingering coughs, being a valuable demulcent, also antiseptic, and a nutritive of great value, especially useful in all wasting diseases, as in incipient consumption and other acrofulous affections. "Golden Medical Discovery" is a sovereign remedy in all catarrhal affections, whether affecting the nasal passages, the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs and the reason why will be learned by reading the little booklet noted above. Send for it now.

In chronic catarrh of the nasal passages, it is important that while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" as the most effective constitutional treatment for this terribly distressing and most obstinate affection that the nasal passages should be cleansed two or three times a day by the free use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, used according to the directions which accompany the same.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation of the bowels, loss of appetite, coated tongue, sour stomach, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Persons subject to any of these troubles should never be without a vial of the "Pleasant Pellets" at hand. Put up in glass vials, tightly corked, therefore always fresh and reliable. One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are cathartic. They regulate, invigorate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in plain English; or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, paper-bound, sent for 21 one-cent stamps, the cost of mailing only. Cloth-bound ten stamps more. 81 in all. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

BICYCLE MAKING HAS FALLEN OFF

81 Decrease in 5 Years Shown by the Census.

Theater Manager Spends Much Money to Save a Pet Dog—Kansas Gas Well Still Burning.

ANOTHER MISSOURI PRECEDENT

Washington, March 8.—The extent to which the bicycle and tricycle industry has fallen off during the past five years is shown in a bulletin issued by the census bureau. This industry was at its height during and just prior to the census year of 1900. Since then there has been a material decrease in all branches of the industry, with the single exception of the manufacture of motor cycles. Large numbers of these machines were manufactured during 1905, showing a great increase over the production in 1900. Many establishments engaged in the manufacture of bicycles in 1900 have either discontinued business or entered other fields of industry. The falling off in the number of wage-earners employed was 81 per cent, the number being reduced from 17,525 in 1900 to 3296 in 1905. The capital invested in 1900 was $29,783,659, whereas in 1905 it was only $5,847,803.

In contrast with these figures, the motor cycle establishments increased from 159 in 1900 to 2289 in 1905, or 1340 per cent.

Spends Much to Save a Pet Dog.

Decatur, Ill., March 8.—A. Sigfried, manager of the Bijou theater, has spent a large sum of money to save the life of a pet black and tan dog. The animal was suffering from blood poisoning, and submitted to a surgical operation which required nearly every organ of the body being removed and replaced. Chloroform was given, and the dog is now in an incubator and appears to be recovering from the operation. Although the animal is worth nothing from a fancier's standpoint, it was valued highly as a pet, and the price paid for the operation was equal to that which is charged for surgical work on human beings.

Trying to Stop Burning Gas Well.

Caney, Kan., March 8.—Efforts to extinguish the burning gas well were renewed today with a large force of men. Three carloads of boiler iron came from Independence and were hauled to the well. Additional apparatus was loaded at Chanute, Kan., and is coming through by special train. Officials of the gas company expect to be able to shut the fire off in a day or two, but realize it is a big job.

Must Get Drunk and Stay So.

Kansas City, Mo., March 8.—"If you'll go out and get drunk and stay drunk, I'll let you out of jail. You've got to leave the city. You've got to live up to these three conditions. If you don't I'll put you in jail and keep you there."

These were the conditions on which Judge Wofford in the criminal court released Selby Jones. Jones is said to be a son of a well known St. Louis family. The name Jones is an alias. The man refuses to give his real name. On his attorney's promise that Jones would go at once to Chicago, where he had secured him work, Judge Wofford took the personal recognition.

CONFERENCE WILL DECIDE QUESTION

Of Building a New Bridge Over Island Creek at Fourth.

Referred to a Committee to Ascertain How Much of the Cost the Street Car Co. Will Pay.

BOARD OF WORKS MEETING.

The board of public works held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon and designated Alderman Harry Hank and Councilman R. S. Barnett, and City Engineer L. A. Washington as a committee to represent the city in a conference to be held with General Manager Bleeker of the traction company, to ascertain what portion of the cost of a bridge across Island creek at Fourth street, the traction company will bear.

When the bridge matter was taken up yesterday, City Engineer Washington reported that the city could repair the bridge for $1,000 or $1,200 so it will last another year, but recommended a new bridge at a cost of about $28,000, which will last thirty years or more. Before a definite conclusion is reached, the city's representatives will ascertain what part of the expense the traction company will pay.

Nothing was done in regard to draining the hollows between Madison and Harrison, and Third street and the river. Engineer Washington reported that a drain pipe for the purpose would cost about $1,000, and the matter will be settled at a conference of the joint street committee of the general council and the board of works.

Street cleaning and sweeping were discussed, and it is probable that the city will arrange to sweep the brick streets, instead of furnishing the apparatus and letting a private contract for it.

The city engineer was instructed to investigate the complaints that the I. C. tracks are too low on First street and Ninth street, where they are on, or across, the city streets.

Street Inspector Elliott was instructed to have a new floor and other repairs made to the Sixth street Island creek bridge, the cost to be about $600.

The N. C. & St. L. was instructed to keep its coaches out of the street near Fifth and Norton streets.

A fence was ordered around the city light plant's cinder pile to keep out thieves.

Repairs were ordered made by the street inspector to the bad alleys in the city. Nothing was done in regard to improving with gravel a street back of George Bernhard's residence on West Broadway. The property owners may petition the board for the improvement of the street by graveling it.

Engineer Washington was instructed to make a report on the damaged sewer drain pipe at the Baumer fill.

Mr. Guy Nance was instructed to file in writing a petition for permission to build a gate leading to city property near the city hall, so he can get to the building in which he will

SHOES FOR SPRING THE POPULAR KINDS

THE shoe men are keeping up with the procession this spring, too, for there is a wealth of new styles to select from, both in shapes and leathers. The Nettleton and Stacy Adams, which we handle, are standard and we don't need to say much about the quality of them, but we do want to call your attention to the dash and swing which is so evident in the new styles. There is an appearance of elegance about these shoes which appeals to you at once and a "feel" to them which demonstrates that comfort, after all, has been the first requisite in the designer's scheme. Here are some of the toes which are destined to popularity, because of their distinctive shape, combined with good, solid comfort: "Jap," "Pidgin" and "Stub." They come in all leathers—Patent Vici, Gun Metal and Patent Colt—either bottom or lace.

Our $3.50 line is a strong one, too. We like to show our goods to a man who is a judge of shoe leather, he usually likes them. This season we are showing the new "Dart" and "Comet" toes, which come in Gun Metal and Patent Colt. The price is $3.50—neither too much or too little.

The board ordered a request filed with the legislative boards for an ordinance for the improvement of Fourteenth street between Clay and Harrison streets.

Street Inspector Elliott was instructed to file a report showing the various places in the city where the drainage is insufficient to carry off surface water.

The street inspector was instructed to repair the fence along the West Tennessee street fill.

The street inspector was also instructed to collect from the street car company and the Pittsburg coal company, the price of some stone belonging to the city that was used by the companies.

A report was made that the old telephone company had blocked the alley running from Ninth to Tenth between Clay and Trimble streets, and the street inspector was instructed to get warrants if the poles were planted without permission.

The city engineer was instructed to repair the culvert at Ninth street and Kentucky avenue. The city solicitor was instructed to investigate what should be done in order to get enough of Austin Tyndall's property to open an alley from Twelfth to Thirteenth, between Jefferson and Monroe.

Daily Thought.

Beware of passion. Every outbreak of anger shortens life to a certain degree.

DRIFTING INTO SOCIALISM.

Nobody will be much surprised at the resignation of Joseph Medill Patterson, Chicago's commissioner of public works, says the St. Louis Globe Democrat. Mr. Patterson was one of Mayor Dunne's most enthusiastic assistants in the business of socializing Chicago, but he found that the municipal ownership idea was inadequate. He is an active and sincere young man, and aims to cure the social ills which he sees, or thinks he sees, around him. But he discovered that Mayor Dunne would not be able to accomplish the things he set out to do, and he steps down. It is presumed that he now becomes a Socialist without any qualification or dilution.

This development was to be expected. There is no half-way house for an ardent person who embraces the municipal ownership fad. He must go clean over to socialism soon or late, and the more enthusiastic he is the sooner he will make the transit. Most of the municipal ownership people who really believe in that idea will land in socialism ultimately. Some persons adopt that fad with the hope of getting office under it, or of being bought off by one or the other of the two big parties. Young Mr. Patterson, however, was not a man of that sort. He believed in it as a cure for social evils, and is likely now to go over to the party which rejects the mild remedies of the municipal ownership men, and would place all the important activities under state control.

Patterson will probably go from Dunne to Debs. The step undoubtedly seemed long to him a year or two ago, but it is shorter than it looked. It will have to be made eventually by most of the municipal ownership people who are sincere. It is a step in the logical process of the person who thinks there is some short cut in the remedying of the abuses and ills of society. If the state is to be allowed to own and manage all the public utilities, it will be well for it to take charge of the rest of the great interests and activities. To this complexion municipal ownership comes at last. Debs polled 400,000 votes for president in 1904. Probably he will get a few hundred thousand more votes in 1908. But neither Debs nor any other Socialist will ever carry the United States. Fads have a short run in this country, though some of them make quite a stir while they last. Gen. James B. Weaver polled 1,000,000 votes for president as head of the Populists in 1892. Where is the Populist party now?

It is up to the mayor to explain how the city can reduce the cost of street lights. We know the average cost for lights for the past ten or eleven years. Some say $84 and the mayor says $62.50. For the sake of argument, say the mayor is right. Then he must explain how he hopes to reduce the cost of lights, for his own figures are over the price the city has been offered lights at private contract. By spending about $20,000, the city may get more lights, but this $20,000 is an additional expense which then must be figured into the total cost per light for a year. Perhaps it would cost no more to operate the light plant with 40 lights added, than it does now, but the additional investment to enable the city to get these forty lights must be added to the cost of lights, just the same as if more money were paid for additional fuel, carbon or labor. Mr. Mayor, show the people how you expect to reduce the proportionate cost of street lights, or acknowledge that you are four-flushing.

Louisville seems to have a rather queer way of investing the people's money. The city of Louisville owns the water company, but for several years it has been controlled by a so-called private company, and the city has had practically no control over its own property, and has had to pay for its own water. The city also has an interest in the gas and light company, owning one-fourth of the gas company, and one-sixth of the light company, and still is paying $84 a light for street lights such as Mayor Yeiser says a company says can be furnished here for $17.50—provided, of course, the city buys the company's machinery.

The city of Louisville is paying $84 a year for street lights, and seems to be pleased at an offer from a new company to furnish them at $74 a year. The Louisville Herald of last night said: "The report of the Gas company was made in response to a resolution passed some time ago. It set forth that the city owns one-fourth of the stock of the Gas company and one-sixth of that of the lighting company, and that the municipal control is absolute. The city has the right to purchase the entire stock of the company upon the expiration of the charter in 1918."

Juries are uncertain things. A libel suit against the Memphis Commercial-Appeal has just been finished and the judgment of the twelve men who composed the jury varied to the extent of from $70,000 down to $20. Seven were for not over $20, two were for $70,000, two for $50,000, and one for $25,000. If the facts or evidence in any one case can produce in the minds of twelve men such a disparity of opinion, the jury system is a mighty bad thing for men not addicted to games of chance.

The anti-poolroom bill has been flched from the legislative records at Frankfort. It was probably taken as a souvenir, and there is no use in raising a fuss over it. It's a very small steal—for Frankfort.

Paducah must sit up and take notice. Mayfield is threatening to become the metropolis of Southwest Kentucky. Our neighbor has made a good start by passing a law to keep cows off the streets.

MOTHER AND CHILD.

Let the mother take Scott's Emulsion for the two; it never fails to benefit them both. One can eat for two, but nourishing two is a different thing. It calls for a degree of internal strength that the average woman lacks. People of luxury are not very strong by habit; overworked people are weak in some functions from exhaustion or their surroundings. Scott's Emulsion can be depended upon to overcome such conditions. It is a wonderful food for a mother and child.

INDICTMENTS IN THE IDAHO CASES

Efforts Beidg Made to Wring Confession From Moyer.

General Sherman Bell Receives a Very Artistic Threat Through Mails and Laughs At It.

ANOTHER MURDER REVEALED

Boise, Idaho, March 8.—Taking advantage of the strain brought on by Charles H. Moyer's solitary confinement of the past two weeks, the officials for the prosecution are directing their efforts toward the president of the Western Federation of Miners in an endeavor to induce him to make a confession in connection with the assassination of ex-Governor Steunenberg at Caldwell, Dec. 31, and murders committed in Colorado.

It has now been definitely established that indictments charging murder direct will be returned against all the federation men under arrest, as follows:

Charles H. Moyer.
William D. Haywood.
George A. Pettibone.
Vincent St. John, alias J. W. Vincent.

Harry Orchard, alias Thomas Hogan.

Steven Adams, alias Steven Dickson.

L. J. Simpkins, alias J. Simmons, the member of the executive board of the federation now a fugitive from justice, will also be indicted on the same charge. He is being trailed through the state of Oregon.

Coffin for General Bell.

Denver, Col., March 8.—General Sherman Bell, who, as adjutant general of Colorado, during the labor troubles, and since his retirement, has received 468 letters threatening his life, received Tuesday a package, which was intended to strike terror to his heart.

Inclosed in a cigar box forwarded to him by mail was a miniature coffin about seven inches long carved out of wood and painted black. Inside the gruesome receptacle was a small empty vial labeled poison and a sack of sand, marked dynamite.

Instead of the brass plate on the lid a skull and crossbones cut out of polished copper was tacked on and bore the inscription:

"Sherman M. Bell, born —, died March 29, 1906."

The coffin contained no writing of any character, and the address on the outer wrapper had been made by cutting out letters from a newspaper. The postmark was partially obliterated, but from the words remaining it appears that it came from some point in New Mexico.

"I received a bloody finger through the mail once," said Bell, "but this man is an artist. I suppose it means that I am to meet death by poison or dynamite on March 29. Its very sad, but it certainly makes a fine addition to my collection of threats."

Another Disappearance Expained.

Denver, Colo., March 8.—The confession of Steve Adams, it is stated fully explains the disappearance of Wesley J. Smith, a boss miner of Telluride in March, 1902. He was a shift boss on the Liberty Bell mine, when it was learned that he had taken sides with the mine owners in the Cour D'Alene trouble. On the evening of March 18 he went to make some purchases and was never heard of. The officers learned that a two-seated vehicle, carrying a man bound and gagged, left the town that night but no trace could ever be found of either the carriage or its occupants. Adams, it is said, in his confession, states that Smith was away with and his body weighted down with stones and thrown in the river, because it was thought he was a spy in the employ of the mine owners.

Orchard Not Alarmed.

Caldwell, Idaho, March 8.—"I'll never hang. I have the promise of the main people in the case and I'm all right," said Harry Orchard when asked if he did not fear the ultimate outcome of his confession.

Funeral At Grahamville.

The funeral of Mrs. Jennie Page took place yesterday at the New Liberty church in the Grahamville section. Mrs. Page died after a few days' illness from pneumonia. She left a family of eight children among them being John Page, of St. Louis; Lee Page, of La Center; Mrs. Walter Baldry and Mrs. Joseph Crawford, of the county.

Proposals for enabling persons to prepay replies to letters sent abroad will be discussed at the Postal Union congress at Rome in April.

THE MAYOR'S PLAN

TO KEEP OFF TROUBLE WHEN HE MOVES TO THE COUNTRY.

Will Rent Country Home to Brother-in-law, Capt. Frank Brown—May Become Ineligible.

You can get ahead of some people by getting up early in the morning, as an old proverb says, but to pass the mayor, one needs to stay up all night.

His honor was in a very thoughtful mood yesterday and told a Sun representative he was fixing up a peaceful settlement of the city and old telephone company's differences, and it was so announced. But, today, it is revealed he was engaged on something requiring more thought than the telephone company suit, or the street car company propositions require.

He was trying to evolve a plan to head off a proposed movement to play the "ousting" game on him this summer when he goes to the country for "the heated term," and he has done it in this manner: He has rented his beautiful country place to his brother-in-law, it is understood, Capt. Frank Brown, and the mayor's family will board with him. The mayor, however, will stay in town with his son-in-law, City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr.

Of course this may make Capt. Brown ineligible for his office, wharf-master, but what's an office between friends, when it comes to helping them out of difficulties?

Mr. F. May, who arrived yesterday from Pine Bluff, Ark., to accept a position on the News-Democrat, will not be managing editor, but have a desk position. Mr. ArmatROUT, who has been editor-in-chief for several weeks, will remain in that capacity.

The Child Labor Bill.

Frankfort, Ky., March 8.—It is probable that no fight will be made in the senate over the child labor bill. The bill as adopted is not entirely satisfactory to either the employers or the labor organizations, which have had representatives here all during the present session fighting for certain other provision, but the legislators who gave it their attention are satisfied that it improves present conditions, and, much better than the present statute, protects the working children in the state. Representative McLean, of Covington; Munnell Wilson, of Hopkins, and Thomas Drewry, of Louisville, as members of the immigration and labor committee of the house, gave much attention and thought to the measure.

Joe B. Williams Case.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Wade Brown, who waited night before last to catch the steamer Joe B. Williams to serve some papers in a small libel claim, secured service on the boat this morning, and was mistaken in the boat he thought was the Williams, a night or two ago when he sat up and waited for her.

Deputy Marshal Brown learned that the Williams was still below and began investigating, finding that the boat he supposed to be the Williams was another craft. He saw the Williams coming up this morning and at 10 o'clock tied her up. The craft was left in charge of Chief Mate Beck and Capt. Hite promptly made bond and secured the release of the boat. The claim was brought by a seaman and is for a few dollars, amounting to very little. The case will come up before the court regularly.

To Recognize Witnesses in Civil Cases.

Frankfort, Ky., March 8.—The senate took a favorable view of the measure introduced by Senator Conn Linn, of Calloway, proposing that Circuit judges be authorized to recognize witnesses for appearance in civil cases in the same manner as is now done in criminal cases. Following an explanation by the author, the senate concluded the bill is a good one and gave it unanimous approval.

$3.00 SHOES FOR MEN AND WOMEN

We are especially pleased with our new line of $3.00 shoes for men and women. Particular attention has been given to the selection of shoes at this price for our experience has shown that $3.00 is the real "popular price." It will buy a shoe in which comfort and wearing quality have not been sacrificed to "style," and in which real style has not been sacrificed to the important consideration of value. All the new shapes and leathers are represented—Patent Calf, Gun Metal, Patent Kid, etc., in both button and lace.

Murder Charged to Negroes.

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 8.—The grand jury returned two indictments charging willful murder, one against General Duffy and the other against Charles Burris, both negroes.

City Engineer Resigns.

Fulton, Ky., March 8.—John Huddleston, after ten years and two months' service as city engineer, resigned his post last night. He will be succeeded by Dick Turner. Mr. Huddleston has served the city long and faithfully, and resigns to enter private business.

New Alderman At Fulton.

Fulton, Ky., March 8.—At a meeting of the board of aldermen of this place R. M. Chowning and Leman Becowder were elected to succeed Aldermen Ed Slaughter and W. J. Cox, resigned. Slaughter is at the point of death from asthma, and Cox has gone to Memphis to reside.

Double Wedding In Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., March 8.—The Rev. Robert Simpson, pastor of the Chestnut Street Christian church, was called on to perform a double wedding ceremony, the contracting parties being Allan Hopkins and Miss Bessie Burris and Finley Burris and Miss Elizabeth Hopkins, of Carlisle, Nicholas county.

Aged Citizen Dead.

Henderson, Ky., Mar. 8.—P. H. King, aged seventy-four years, and a well-known citizen of this city, died here after an illness of several weeks. For many years he was prominent in city affairs, serving a number of terms as a member of the common council, and in other capacities. Four children survive.

Will Col. Hindman Resign?

Louisville, Ky., Mar. 8.—It is reported that Col. Biscoe Hindman, of the First Kentucky regiment, will resign shortly, and that the question will be taken up by the commissioned officers, who constitute the board of administration, next Tuesday evening. Sentiment is growing in favor of Gen. John B. Castleman for the place. Col. Hindman denied the report, and said that he has no intention of withdrawing.

$500 Check for Each.

Williamstown, Ky., March 8.—Albert Barnes, one of the wealthiest residents of Grant county, was recently given a surprise dinner by his six children, which he turned into a surprise for them. It was Mr. Barnes' 51st birthday, and when his children sat down to the surprise dinner they found a $500 check under each plate which their father had placed there. Mr. Barnes' surprise was voted the surprise of the day.

Investigating City Departments.

Bowling Green, Ky., Mar. 8.—The city council has been having portions of the municipal departments investigated and experts are now at work. The board has adopted a resolution further extending the investigation to the board of education. This department corresponds to school boards in cities of classes above Bowling Green. There is no intimation or indication that anything is irregular in any department of the city, but the council desires to investigate matters thoroughly for the benefit of the public.

Swell Dallas Reception.

The following is from "Beau Monde" a weekly society paper of Dallas, Texas:
"The Country club reception given by Mrs. Murrell L. Buckner to meet her brother's bride, Mrs. William Lee Johnson, of New York rounded up the pro-Lenten season with a smart and fashionable event, not listed. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are on their wedding tour, and only expected to stop off with their sisters a day or two, but were prevailed upon to remain longer, so the reception was arranged and invited by phone within two days. Notwithstanding, it was a crush affair, with a big house party of our most charming women, and every detail was carried out with a taste and beauty that had no semblance of a hurry-up reception."

The receiving line was quite a lengthy one, and at a place of honor, near the hostess, is named "Mrs. Victor Voris of Kentucky," who is being extensively feted herself in her former home.

Mrs. Buckner's husband is a Paducah boy, and she is popular here as well as he.

The K. of P. Club Rooms.

The local lodge of Knights of Pythias are fitting up elegant club quarters in the Campbell building near Fifth on Broadway. The ante room adjoining the regular lodge room has been remodeled and nicely furnished. There are tables, fine chairs and other articles of convenience for the members of the lodge. It is the intention of the members to make the club quarters equal to the finest in the city.

Dr. C. E. Whitesides has sold his dental establishment to Dr. Mac Hill, and will leave in a few days for Cincinnati where he will practice his profession.

Napoleon's Handwriting.

M. Houssaye attributes the muddle over orders at Waterloo to Napoleon's execrable handwriting. This was the opinion of the writing master of Alexander Dumas: The Emperor never lost a battle except by his bad handwriting. His officers could never make out what he meant. Remember this, Alexandre, and make your down-strokes heavy and your up-strokes light! Grouchy declares that during the battle of Waterloo he could not make out whether Napoleon wrote "bataille gagnée" or "bataille engagée," and he conjecturally read "bataille gained"—Andrew Lang, in London Post.

FOR PAINLESS TOOTH PULLING

Dr. E. G. Hauser, Dentist, 309 Broadway, Paducah.

TWO CHARGES

GROW OUT OF AN EARLY MORNING FIGHT AT 4TH & B'WAY.

Captain Dick Howard and Colonel Gus Singleton Said to Have "Fie" Some.

A difficulty at Fourth and Broadway about 1 o'clock this morning caused reports of stabbings, murders and other harrowing things. Capt. Dick Howard and Col. Gus G. Singleton, as a result of the trouble, were this morning warranted for a breach of the peace.

Capt. Howard, who has a room in the second story of the building on the northeast corner of Fourth and Broadway, was also warranted for suffering gaming.

The police claim that they know very little about the case. It is said that Capt. Howard had been drinking and was insulting to Col. Singleton, who attempted to ignore him and escape trouble. It is said that they had one fight in the street, and a short time afterwards in Capt. Howard's room. Neither was much hurt. Capt. Howard, upon the occasion of the second fight, is said to have struck Col. Singleton and the latter knocked him down and kicked him. Col. Singleton is said to have a black eye, and Capt. Howard has some abrasions and bruises. Neither is seriously hurt and the attending physicians say there was no one out.

It is possible that other warrants will grow out of the case when it is more fully investigated.

IN THE COURTS

Alleged Murderer Located?

Detective T. J. Moore said this morning that he had beyond a doubt located Arthur Shumake, of near Boaz, who has been wanted as being implicated in the death of William Augustus. The detective would not give out any information relative to where the young man is, but stated that as soon as he could find time, he would go after him. Shumake is supposed to be working at his trade of a sawyer. The Mayfield papers say he is believed to be in Mississippi.

The Pension Board's Work.

The board of pension examiners completed its work yesterday and adjourned. Edgar Roop and Wm. C. Saunders, white, who fought in the Spanish-American war, made applications for pensions on account of disability. James Shoffner, colored, of the Civil war, made applications also. George W. Clay, colored, of Mayfield, Wm. Jones, colored, of Holloway, Ky., George Vaughan, white, of Hardin, Ky., veterans of the Civil war, were examined for pensions.

Wife Asks For a Divorce.

Mrs. Cora E. Houser has filed suit against her husband, John W. Houser for divorce and $25 a month alimony, and the custody of their child. They were married over a year ago, and the plaintiff alleges separated about six weeks ago. Houser is the young boiler maker arrested for threatening to kill his wife with a shotgun, day before yesterday, and when arrested had the gun and a lot of whiskey. He claimed he had been hunting, and meant no harm, and the case against him was dismissed in police court yesterday, but he was recognized to keep the peace. As a sequel to the case his wife has filed the suit for divorce, and alleges in it that she believes he would have done her bodily harm had not the police arrived when they did and taken charge of Houser and his gun.

Took An Appeal.

Louis Vaughan, white, who was fined $50 and costs for flourishing a pistol, has taken an appeal to the circuit court. He was fined for flourishing a pistol about H. Petter.

Deeds.

James Houston deeds to Norfleet Finney, for $650, property in the county.

L. M. Johnson Co. liquor license at 13th and Clay, was granted a transfer of license to J. McCaughey at 12th and Jones streets.

James Terry, age 23, and Mittie Whorter, age 21, colored, of the county were licensed to wed today.

Court of Appeals Affirms Case.

A dispatch from Frankfort telling of the affirmation of the action of McCracken circuit court in the case of May Hunt against Q. V. Nance and others, was received today. The plaintiff secured a judgment against Nance in Graves county and brought a suit to subject some property of Nance for payment of the former judgment. The court decided against her and she appealed and lost.

LATE BASEBALL NEWS

Berryhill has signed Al Schissell, a backstop, and Betz an outfielder. He is after a pitcher who will be a world-beater, and until his John Hancock is down on a contract, his identity is withheld. Only five men stole bases on Schissell last season, his unerring whip nailing them.—Mattoon Star.

There are 32 minor leagues under protection of the national association. These leagues have a total of 248 clubs and employ more than 4,200 men, and spend upward of $600,000 a month for salaries, traveling expenses and other necessary outlays, such as rent for parks and accommodations.

Danville will wear gray suits at home. The jackets will be trimmed with blue.

As will doubtless be remembered Mattoon was in the Three-Eye league in the season of 1899. Players and managers would do well to bear this point in mind.—Cairo Bulletin.

The Vincennes players will likely be ordered to report either April 10 or 17.

Cairo papers are already out with the "warm atmosphere" about pennant winning. Last season about this time every man Cairo had signed was to hit .300, and the Rats were to break up the league within a month. The matter ended in talk and Cairo played tag with the rear end of the profession.—Vincennes Capital.

Mr. McCarthy yesterday entered the uniforms for the Cairo team. The home suits will be cream white with blue letters across the shirt bosoms. Bearing in mind a lesson learned last summer, we will dispense with the useless pocket on the bosom of the shirt. The road uniforms will be the same as last season a bluish gray with blue letters and collar on the shirts. The caps, belts and stockings will be of the finest made. The caps will be blue with a large English script "C" on the front. The belts blue, web and leather lined. The stockings will be heavy ribbed white and blue striped with mercerized white feet. The coats will be bluish gray, the same as the road uniform with an English script "C" on the left breast in blue. The collar and cuffs will be of blue and the buttons large pearl affairs. This will give Cairo something like 40 uniforms all in first-class order. Mr. McCarthy also ordered two yards in the piece of the gray and white to be used in patching the uniforms when they require it. * * * In Orvid Wolfe, Cairo has a catcher, so all authorities, and there are a host of them, agree that as a catcher, he has it on Grover Land and when it comes to hitting, he ranks as professor in the art of swatting.—Cairo Bulletin.

No one ever gave Gus Bonno, the handsome black haired, black-eyed debonaire Italian twirler, credit for being a hitter, but it appears that he made a home run after leaving the Kitty last season which cost him a broken ankle. Referring to page 160 of the Reach guide for this year under the head of "The Chronology of 1905, we find under date of September 23, this note:

"Pitcher Gus Bonno at Cincinnati, broke his ankle jumping from a second story window of a young woman's home to avoid being shot by a jealous rival suitor."—Cairo Bulletin.

Manager C. A. Wortham yesterday gave out the following as a correct list of players who have signed Danville contracts and who will be given a try-out on the local diamond before the Kitty league baseball season opens.

Quisser and Shaw, catchers; Saltmarsh, Maxwell, McDonald, Thomas Williams and Butler, pitchers; Willis, first base; O'Connell, Fleming and Mentzer, second base; Hankey (captain); Parker, third base; Suencer, Youngblood and Blosser, shortstops; McGinnis, Turner Nichols, Fleming Cohart, Burrow, Lacey Kenalezer and Jenkins, outfielders.—Danville Press.

The deal transferring Holycross to Danville was closed with the player himself yesterday, the papers all made out and sent him.

AN INTERVIEW WITH YOUR BODY

The Language Nature Uses in Telling Her Troubles—In Warning Mankind of Her Need for Aid.

It will surprise many people to know that regularly each day Nature tries to talk to them about the conditions and needs of their bodies.

Very few people know how to converse with Nature. She speaks only one language—that of pain. Each little pain and ache she gives us has a meaning. Quite often it is a warning that through improper care of the body uric acid is accumulating in the system.

Nine-tenths of all diseases are caused by an overload of uric acid in the blood, but when Nature speaks out plainly by means of pain, many people pay no attention, thinking the pain will not last long. Probably it does not, and so the disease gradually gets a firm hold before its presence is known.

To understand what pain means—to know how to aid Nature—that is the story LIFE PLANT is continually telling.

LIFE PLANT shows in a simple common sense way just how Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Trouble, and many other diseases are caused—tells you how LIFE PLANT drives the cause—uric acid—out of your system.

LIFE PLANT is a simple scientific vegetable preparation for people of good judgment. If you want to learn all about it, ask your druggist, he sells LIFE PLANT; or write to the LIFE PLANT COMPANY, Canton, Ohio, and get a valuable booklet on Good Health and expert medical advice free. Career of "Big Gus"

He Was Not Afraid of Anything, Living
or Dead

Lived a Wild and Adventurous
Life as a Pirate and on a
Warship and Rarely
Was Sober.

A man with tattooed anchors, stars and mermaids on the backs of his sinewy hands entered a hotel in Macon, Mo., registered as "A. D. Castle, British navy," and drew a picture of a man-of-war in the space reserved for the call, says the Kansas City Star.

"No, I've killed no bears of my own," said the sailor. "I never saved a ship just as it was going down with all hands, and I never touched off the gun that sent the enemy's battleship to navigating among the fishes, but for several years I enjoyed the society of a man who I'll bet was the toughest proposition that ever sailed the high seas, and he was from your country, a native of Charleston, George Getsinger by name, but known to his mates as 'Big Gus.' He wore long pointed mustaches, a little goatee and was as swarthy as a Hindoo. When the private Alabama ran on to the Eliza Hatch, merchantman, south of the line 'Big Gus' was the only thing on board that wouldn't surrender. He walked over to the rail and, shaking his fists at the battleship's crew, offered to lick any two men they had. After the prisoners were taken aboard, the Alabama's sailors picked out the best man they had, and he went up against the big and never got over it.

"Soon after the civil war 'Big Gus' landed in England, and some of the men on the sailing vessel H. L. Richeson found him in a Liverpool gutter. He was a prize worth having, and they took him aboard. I was a seaman on the Richeson, and the mate notified me to rouse 'Big Gus' at midnight and have him stand watch with me. It wasn't a pleasant prospect to tell the sea terror that he had been shanghaied. "Big Gus" was snoring loud enough to swell the sails when I yanked him over. He jumped up with a growl and, seizing me by the neck, held me up for inspection.

"Who the blankety blank blank are you? he wanted to know.

"I told him I would have the honor of standing watch with him if I lived to do it.

"Watch on what?"

"The H. L. Richeson."

"Did they shanghai me?"

"I'm afraid so."

"That's the only way they'd 'a' got me on this tub. Say, did they throw a jug in with my bag?"

"He was in deadly earnest when he asked that question. I told him he was hauled aboard without his jug. He started to cave, and I remembered I had a couple of flasks. I was ordered to produce immediately. Glad of a chance to mollify him, I went below and got the restorative. He drank half the contents of one bottle, then solemnly corked it and handed it back.

"Keep that till I call for it again," he said, "and don't let me have but one good pull at a time."

"But suppose you'd want more and I tried to stop you, I suggested, 'you'd maul the life out of me.'"

"That's so," he returned reflectively. Then he added: "You might bring the allowance in a dipper and then run. Before I had time to finish it you'd be safe."

"He was keenly aware of the awful passion drink inspired in him, and I knew he was honestly talking for my own good. At one time he had been a mutineer on the high seas, with the added charge of murder against him, and was a prisoner in irons when the civil war broke out. He was released to join the Confederate army, deserted and went on the Elizabeth Hatch as seaman. His capture by the Alabama put him into the Confederate service again.

"The sailors from the Richeson got their rations from a big pot, the supply being ladled out by the cook as the men gathered around with their bowls. It was a busy time, and, pretending to prevent crowding, the seamen would ask a double allowance of bread and hash for 'me and my chum.' I was young and small, and by the time I got to the pot I generally found it empty because of the double allowance. 'Big Gus' noticed my ill luck once or twice, and then something happened. When the crowd gathered around the cook and began filling their requests for 'me and my chum' he lit in among 'em, and before you could count six a dozen sailors were scattered around the decks like toy dolls.

"You just let me hear some more of that 'me and my chum' business, will you?" said 'Big Gus' as he glanced around. Nobody cared to argue with him, and from that time on I was in favor with the cook.

"When 'Big Gus' met with the inevitable he was not with the Richeson, but we learned how it happened. He rarely drew a sober breath on shore, and one day some of his mates who had suffered from his tyranny got a can of nitroglycerin and labeled it 'Old Eye.' They bet him the price of the full can that he couldn't kick it across a lot. 'Big Gus' threw off his cap, spit on his hands and took a short preliminary run. The people of the neighborhood said the fragments were coming down all day long."

HAMLIN GARLAND

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY HAMLIN GARLAND

"No news whatever. I am sure he is on his way up to you."

"I am starting back at once, and I will take care of him. Trust him to me."

When at last the hostess rose, the young miner's heart contracted with a sudden realization that his hour of grace was over and that the time had come for his return to the stern realities of life.

In the hall he extended his hand in fixed resolution to Mrs. Barnett.

"Goodby. It's hard to leave you and this glorious home."

"Must you go today?"

"Yes. I must hurry back. Kelly needs me, and then there is Louis."

"Well, if you must— But do come again, Rob. Don't mind who is here; come to see us. It is always good to have you here."

"As soon as this strike is over I will do so," he said very earnestly.

Don followed him to his room, and while resuming his big boots Raymond said: "Don't let that sheriff head me off. Keep him for a couple of hours, and I'll be out of his reach."

"Don't worry about the sheriff, old man, and throw your whole weight against Munro's policy of resistance."

"I've done that from the first."

Ann was waiting to see him as he came out into the upper hall. It was her first deliberate motion toward him, but her face gave him no hint of her quickened pulses as she said: "Give Nora my love, and greet grand old Matt for me, won't you? I feel as if I ought to go back."

"You must not, much as we all need you. This is no time for you to be there. I wish Nora would come down."

"I wish she would; and please let me know instantly that Louis is safe with you."

"I will do so. When do you go east?"

"Not till spring."

"Then I may see you again." His words formed a declaration as well as a question, and his glance meant more than his tone.

Her eyes fell. "Perhaps," and she added, with an upward glance, "If you visit us soon."

"That I will do. Goodby."

"Goodby, and please don't be reckless."

CHAPTER XXII.

RAYMOND looked back occasionally, half expecting pursuit. He could see in the valley below the town the gleaming white tents of the little army hesitant to march, and its plan of invasion seemed born of folly and madness. He spurred his horse down the trail to meet the night which rose to meet him from the valley like a chill, engulfing flood. An hour's brisk ride brought him to the open, and just at the edge of the peak he came upon a forlorn camp, a small tent under a fir, and a group of four men sitting about a fire. At their call he turned and rode up to them. They were an outpost of Munro's guard, a part of the cordon he had thrown round the peak and camp.

One of them knew him and, greeting him pleasantly, asked where he had been.

He replied with candor, "I've been down to the Springs to induce those 'yaller legs' to put off their expedition."

"What luck did ye have?"

"None. They're coming."

Significant glances passed, and the firelight brought out stern lines on their faces. At length Brown, the corporal, said solemnly: "Well, if they want fight they can have it. But say, Rob, does the captain know you're on the road? There was a hullo about in town about you last night. A lot of the fellows think you went down to give away the camp, and some said if you ever came back they'd string you up. Now, I guess you better stay here while I ride up and tell the cap you're here."

"I don't think that's necessary, but you might jog along with me if you want to go. Otherwise I'll go alone."

"Well, I'll tell ye, Rob," said Brown in an embarrassed way, "these monkeys on the peak have got an awful slant against you and Kelly, and they're two or three fellows who are working against you underhand right along. You don't want to take no chances. They'll do ye if they can."

Raymond was impressed with Brown's earnestness and by the admirable loyalty of his fellows camped there in the snow. "Boys, what are you staying here for?" he asked. "This isn't a picnic. What do you do it for?"

Brown answered, "We do it because we want to help these miners stand off the 'plutes'."

Raymond mused. "But you're friendly toward Kelly & Raymond?"

"Sure thing. You fellows are all right. You're punched crows, and Kelly is an old broncho buster himself. But let me tell ye this, Rob, we're going to need you and your men if these chaps come up here the way they talk o' doin'—with Gatling guns and all that. The boys have been rollin' logs for a fortnight. You can just about see it from here—just on that point."

"Well, suppose we ride along," said Raymond, and as he took a last look around his heart warmed to these rough souls who had taken sides in a quarrel not their own, moved by a blind desire to aid their fellows in a war against privilege and social caste. Brown called another man out of the group to ride with them, and they started away. On the hill east of the town and overlooking the valley lights could be seen flickering. The corporal lifted his arm and pointed that way. "There they are building the fort."

Raymond's blood began to stir, his military instruction to freshen, and for a moment, as he paused there in the darkness, he understood something of Munro's joy in a defensive campaign, but he said aloud: "It's all a mistake. Brown. They can't afford to fight the sheriff. The law is on his side."

Brown grimly replied, "Well, we'll give him a little run for his money, anyway."

Raymond smiled at the boyish quality of this remark, but made no comment upon it, and allowed himself to be led by a roundabout path to the

"There they are building the fort," west side of the town. At last his guide paused. "You're all right now."

"I wish you'd tell Jack I'm here and that I want to see him," said Raymond. "I'm much obliged to you."

"Oh, that's all right, Rob; take keer o' yerself." And the two men rode off.

"Good luck, boys."

As he rode up to Kelly's cabin and called out, "Hello, the house!" Matt opened the door and, with a lad on either side of him, peered out. "Is that you, Rob?"

"The very same, Matt."

"Well, now, wait a whilst and I'll come and put out your horse."

Mrs. Kelly called cheerily: "Rob, we're glad to see you safe returned. Are you hungry?"

He slid from his horse. "I am empty as a wolf in March," he replied.

"Where's Louis?"

"Louis! He hasn't returned. Didn't you leave him at the Springs?"

"No. He left early this morning and Ann thought he had hit the stage road for the camp. I hope he hasn't gone wrong."

This news took away a large part of his pleasure in the friendly hearth to which he was welcomed and, removing his outer garments, he bent to the blaze in silence while Mrs. Kelly spread some food before him.

Kelly listened to the news of Louis' disappearance with less concern. "He's run into some of Munro's men and is probably up at headquarters. He couldn't get lost. He knows the road. What's the word from the valley?"

"They're coming, Matt."

"When?"

"Tonight or tomorrow."

"I've been receiving delegations and posters and all kinds of warnin's. It's been a lively day on the hill. They're buildin' a fort."

"So Frank Brown told me. How do our men feel?"

Matt rubbed his chin. "They're a little uneasy, to tell the truth."

Mrs. Kelly interrupted. "Sit up and eat, Rob. Talk afterward."

Raymond could see that Kelly was disturbed, and that he had something to tell which he did not care to have Nora know. It was plain that he no longer minimized the danger, and his face fell easily into stern lines.

Seizing the moment when his wife left the room to put the youngsters to bed, the big miner laid a sheet of paper before his partner. "What do you think of that?"

Raymond looked at the death's head warning, for such it was, with amazement. It seemed at first sight a rough joke. In one corner glared the conventional crossbones and skull, rudely drawn, and to the right and beneath them sprawled the word "Beware!" All this was amusing, but the logic of the argument which followed gave him thought.

This neutral business is played out. Either you are for us or you are for the dukes. If you are for the dukes, get out. If you are for us, send in your men to help us repel the invaders. This is our last warning. Remember the Red Star!

COMMITTEE.

Raymond rose. "Let's go down to my shack. We can talk matters over there more freely."

"I'll be with you in a few minutes," answered Kelly.

It was warm in the cabin, for the faithful Perry had built a fire early in the evening, and after he had lighted a couple of candles and kicked the fire into a blaze the room resumed its cheerful glow, but he was too deeply disturbed over Louis' nonappearance to fully enjoy it. He took out his revolver and was examining it carefully as Kelly entered.

"Did ye meet with any trouble, Rob?"

"None. Some of the committee of safety wanted to arrest me and hold me as hostage, but Barnett stood 'em off. I didn't see a soul till on my way back I came on one of Jack's picket posts, where I found four men camped in misery and eating snowballs for supper."

"It's strange the power he has over them wild cowboys. Drunk or sober, they do as he tells them. His trouble will come with Brock and Smith, who are neither miners nor cowboys, for they are all tryin' to derive their power from Carter, who is dead sick of the business and likely to fly the coop at any minute. Where you goin'?"

"Up town to take a look round for Louis."

"You go not! 'Tis a poor time for you to visit the street. They have it in their heads that you are playin' the spy."

"I must find that boy. He left the Springs at 8 this morning, and his sister is worried about him."

"I will go for ye, Rob. It's too dangerous for you."

Raymond rose and laid a hand on Kelly's shoulder. "See here, Matt. I want to talk plainly to you. You've got to bundle up that little wife and the boys and get out of here. I'm going to take a hand in this game. I'm going to call the independents together and make a stand."

Kelly faced him. "If ye make a stand I must be beside ye. What is your plan?"

"I will not tell you unless you promise to take Nora out of danger."

Kelly's face grew stern, and his voice fell to a level hoarseness that sent a quiver through the young man's blood. "See here, boy, we struck hands on this partnership. We share and share alike. I am with ye and so is Nora. I am ready to dig a hole in the ground and stand 'em off. I'm worn out with their comin' and goin', whip-sawin' now on this, now on that side of the question. They've declared war on us. Now, by the powers, we'll meet 'em halfway!"

Raymond surrendered. "All right, Matt, here's my hand. Well defend Nora and the mine too. When your fighting blood is up I don't want any dispute between us."

W. B. SMITH CASE

WILL BE MOST IMPORTANT OF FEDERAL COURT.

Louisville Government Officers Are Hard at Work On Approaching Term There.

Louisville, Ky., Mar. 8.—All is actively in the offices of Assistant District Attorney Thatcher, Clerk A. G. Ronald and Marshal G. W. Long in anticipation of the March term of the United States court, which will begin next Monday. On Tuesday the juries will be sworn in. The criminal docket will first receive attention. In all there are about seventy cases to be tried. A majority of them relate to violations of the sale of liquor and making of whiskey.

The most important case is that of W. B. Smith, former president of the Western National Bank, of this city, and a former banker of Paducah, who is under indictment for alleged embezzlement and misappropriation of money. Mr. Smith has arranged to settle with the bank, but this will have no bearing on the matter in the United States court.

The next cases in importance are those in which Hollis H. Price and Charles Wells are charged with conspiracy to violate the Interstate Commerce law. These men are also under indictment on the charge of having defrauded several railroad companies. Price and Wells were dealers in hay and it is claimed that they falsified bills of lading in shipping consignments, mostly to southern points.

"THE PADUCAH"

Is the Name of a New Fulton Drink.

City Marshal Eaker and Officer McDade deserve great praise for the arrest of three negro bottleggers, says yesterday's Fulton Leader. The three negroes, Allen Scruggs, Will Graves and Tom Lyon, have been selling drinks which they call "Paducah." This "Paducah," which is nothing more nor less than stale beer, is bottled in soda pop bottles and sells for five cents a bottle. The officers got hold of several bottles of the stuff and had Mayor Shacklett and others to sample it. All who tasted it pronounced it a poor quality of beer. Accordingly the three "dealers" were arrested and were this morning tried in Judge Carr's court and found guilty. Scruggs was fined $50 and costs and Graves $30 and costs. Lyon, against whom there were two warrants, submitted his cases and was fined $255 and costs in each case. Lyon then "peached" on a partner whom he alleged to be guilty of selling "Paducah." The partner will be arrested as soon as the officers locate him.

KIDNAPED BOY.

Kept Him Two Days Without Food When He Escaped.

New York, March 8.—Antonio Bozzuffi, the fourteen-year-old son of John Bozzuffi, a private banker, declared by parents to have been kidnapped, has returned home. The boy disappeared Sunday and a demand was made on the father for $20,000 ransom.

The boy said he had been confined in a house without food since Sunday and finally managed to escape. The police have arrested two Italians and charged them with the crime.

Cured Consumption.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kan., writes, My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him. That was six years ago and since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Alvey & List.

A CLEVER RESCUE.

was largely through her efforts that they were enabled to get Elbert Hubbard to visit the city.

Dr. David Lovitch, the rabbi of Temple Israel, introduced Elbert Hubbard in a very graceful and happy way. Dr. Lovitch is an eloquent speaker and is a very gifted young divine. The Temple made an ideal place for the lecture and the Charity club greatly appreciates the kindness of the congregation in allowing them to use it in the emergency.

The accident last evening that followed the lecture, the giving away of part of the concrete floor of the vestibule, was a most unusual occurrence in many respects, and it is remarkable that no serious harm or panic resulted. In fact, not even a scream was heard from the dozen people who were on it at the time it gave way.

Steamboat Inspectors Moore and Williams have some traveling to do this week. They went to Spottsville, Ky., on Tuesday to inspect the Thomas A. Parker and from there they were to go to Columbus, Ky., to inspect the transfer boat St. Louis, and later were booked for a visit to Cairo to inspect the John S. Summers and the Ariadne.—Evansville Journal-News.

Some think it doubtful that the United States dredgeboats will get a chance to cut out the channels at the shallow places between here and Cairo on account of the stage of the river. It is too high for them to do much now and the chances are that the season is too far advanced for a fall sufficient to let them proceed with their excellent work.—Courier-Journal.

The Lee Line boats have carried 500,000 passengers in the past five years without an accident to any of them.

The Clyde left last night for Tennessee river with a good trip. The Kentucky is now due.

The J. B. Richardson arrived last night from Nashville and today goes to St. Louis to run on the Mississippi river to Calhoun.

Inspectors Green and Macdonald have gone up the Tennessee river to inspect steamboats and will not return here until the 20th inst.

There is a black walnut stump sticking up on the wharf opposite the foot of Third street. In the '50s and '60s this stump was eight feet high and two feet in diameter. As many as half a dozen big steamboats used to land at Strader's wharf and all tie their lines to this post one above the other. When a boat got ready to leave the mate would take an ax and chop the line loose that was holding the boat. Upon one occasion the line which held the big Iroquois was chopped loose by mistake and the boat drifted away from the wharf and went down over the falls through the Kentucky chute.

She was caught and landed in safety at New Albany. The post is now worn down to a level of the stones on the levee, and marks the spot where the post stood and to which the big boats of the New Orleans line tied in ante-bellum days of steamboating.—Courier-Journal.

The Harry Brown will be due at this port in a few days with a tow of coal. Upon her arrival here, she will be assigned to the St. Louis trade.

MUCH OBJECTION TO THE EXECUTION

Citizens of Madisonville are Up in Arms Over Court Orders.

Do Not Want a Man Hanged in the Court Room and Will Ask a Commutation.

MANY PEOPLE ARE PROTESTING

Madisonville, Ky., Mar. 8.—A petition is being signed by most all the influential men of the city asking the governor to commute the death sentence of Garth Thompson, the negro murderer, to life imprisonment. A number of strong personal letters from influential men of this city will be written to Gov. Beckham asking that he commute the sentence.

No effort has as yet been made at building the scaffold for the execution, but it is understood that the execution will not take place in the courthouse as was first ordered or suggested.

The effort to establish such a precedent as hanging a prisoner in the court-room has raised a storm of protest and indignation.

It would be, according to many who have looked into the matter, the first execution that has ever occurred in the same room where the prisoner was tried and condemned.

As soon as it was learned that Thompson was to pay the penalty of his crime with his life the officers at once began to look about for a suitable place to execute the law's decree. It was at first decided to have the execution in the vacant lot between the jail and the city lock-up and it was generally understood that the lot would be enclosed and the gallows erected there. Opposition from several sources developed and it was seen that it would be practically impossible to have the hanging there on account of the strong opposition.

When the matter was taken before Judge Gordon Saturday he at once ordered that the gallows be erected in the circuit court room and that Thompson be hanged in the same room where the sentence of death was passed on him.

The order of the judge has caused much unfavorable discussion. It is pointed out that the court-room is a public place of meeting and that it would be entirely inappropriate to have an execution occur there. It is very likely that a petition will be circulated asking Judge Gordon to reverse his order and to have the negro hanged in some other place if he is finally hanged.

The law says that all executions shall be conducted in an enclosure and that they shall not be witnessed by more than fifty persons. One of the things that caused Judge Gordon to decide to order the hanging held in the court room was that it would put the county to a heavy expense to provide an enclosure in a place where the execution could not be witnessed by more than the number of people allowed by law.

CATARRH CONQUERED.

Remarkable Cures Follow Introduction of New Drug, Ascatco.

New York, Mar. 6.—Evidence of the wonderful cures effected by the new Austrian drug, ascatco, in catarrh and asthma continue to pour in from all parts of the country. Catarrh evidently this time has met its master. Consular reports show that obstinate cases have been cured by 500 drops.

The dose is minute, being but seven drops twice daily. The Austrian dispensary, 32 West 25th street, New York City, has been empowered to carry on the work in this country of stamping out these two dreaded diseases, and to this end is sending sample bottles free by mail on application to persons in all parts of the country.

LARGE CROWD AT HUBBARD LECTURE

The Eccentric Sage From East Aurora Lectured Two Hours.

Many Like and Many Imagine They Do, But It Was a Fine Literary Treat.

RECEPTION FOLLOWS LECTURE.

Elbert Hubbard author, editor, Roycroft, Philistine, theorist lecturer, et al, made his initial bow to a Paducah audience last evening at Temple Israel. The audience was a large and representative one. There is quite an Elbert Hubbard cult in the city and his admirers, of course, were out in full force to greet him. Many more who do not take him so seriously were present, also, with curiosity pure and simple for their excuse. Just who came for the "common sense" part was not quite so evident.

As a poseur no fault can be found with the sage of East Aurora by even the most critical and uncouth of the people on the outside. The flowing hair and every detail of his attire accentuated his role most skillfully.

The lecture, "An Age of Common Sense," was distinctly Hubbardesque. Clever, as Elbert Hubbard's writings undoubtedly are, and entertaining, with the good things and the hardly good things so subtly interwoven that they almost blend, and with much that so-called "conservative people" can not, and do not care to, endorse. The humorous element was well brought out and quite caught his audience. His peculiarities of style and mannerisms kept him from being as pleasant a speaker, perhaps, as he is a writer, but it was Elbert Hubbard all through, and that was what his audience came out to see for they were not disappointed, no, not one.

Mr. Hubbard held an informal reception last evening after the lecture at the temple, and had callers at the Palmer House also. He was pleased with Paducah and will doubtless be willing to come here again. He left at 9:20 this morning for St. Louis, where he lectures tonight. He came here en route from Hopkinsville.

The Charity club, under whose auspices Mr. Hubbard came to Paducah, held a meeting this morning and reported $117.25 as cleared by the lecture. Two bracelets instead of one were awarded as prize to the little girls selling the greatest number of tickets. Miss Martha Cape and Miss Gladys Warfield ran so close a race the club felt they each deserved a prize.

The Charity club wishes to especially thank Dr. Olivia Nelson, as it

Rivermen are preparing for the opening up of all kinds of river traffic. The side streams are beginning to overflow and pour out into the Ohio, and the thaw is having a noticeable effect from Pittsburg to Cairo. Within the next week big shipments of coal will be made from Pittsburg and hundreds of persons who make their living by that form of river traffic will be again given employment after a long lay off.
